While by no means a total representation of all the work performed by the Town, the following highlights some Departments' activities:

Town Manager's Office

Town Manager, Dawn Francis

On Saturday, May 7th Town of Colchester volunteers participated in two events that benefited our community and beyond. Green-Up Day, an annual event in towns across Vermont for many years, brought together hundreds of volunteers who picked up roadside “flotsam and jetsam” left behind after our long winter. Final statistics will be available in a week or two, but preliminary counts indicate at least 378 volunteers participated in clean up and the first roll-off container weighed in with 1.71 tons of trash. Special thanks go to the Colchester Conservation Commission and member Robin Orr, who was the Green-Up Coordinator this year; to Cub Scout Pack 655 for volunteering for the “umpteenth” year in a row; and to the Colchester-Milton Rotary, whose members sponsored the hotdog cookout after the clean-up. A big thank you goes to Myers Container for generously donating the roll-off dumpster for trash collection once again this year. Last, but never least, thanks to all the Colchester residents who gave their time and labor to make Green-Up Day a success.

Also on May 7th was The First Annual Burlington vs. Colchester Charity Hockey Games to benefit the Burlington and Colchester Emergency Food Shelves. The teams played three games and raised $400 and collected an estimated 50 pounds of food to be distributed between the two organizations. Special thanks to Melissa Cate, Recreation Facilities Manager at Burlington Parks, Recreation & Waterfront, who scheduled the games and donated ice time; and Colchester Health and Wellness members, who helped with the flyer, signup sheets and getting the word out about the event. Our gratitude goes out to the participants of both communities who supported the event.

Economic Development Department Kathi Walker O'Reilly, Director

Many projects are ongoing in the Economic Development Department, including work on the Community Center and Bayside Park Master Plan, GIS mapping for various Town applications by UVM students at no cost to the Town; finalizing design elements with VTrans for the new Exit 16; and proposed new zoning for West Lakeshore Drive. Additionally:

- Researching opportunities for the Town's Communications Plan
- Met with area hotels and local vendors to create marketing partnerships
- Exploring possibilities for future promotion of Colchester with new Colchester Sun editor, Courtney Lamdin.
